March 29, 2016. I've just added the words and clues of the final four ਸ਼ਬਦ ਪਹੇਲੀs into this glossary : the last puzzle number 60 appeared exactly two years ago, and its answers on April 19, 2014. While entering these words it occurred to me that there must be a

(1) software which puts a given set of Punjabi words into lexicographic order? So very lazily I have still not put this glossary in exact dictionary order but will do so if someone is kind enough to send me such a software.

(2) Also, it should be fairly easy for a bright computer person to write a program which fills any small blank grid with Punjabi words from a given digitalized set? Many such programs are available for English, so making crossword puzzles in this language is easy : one is at once reduced to the act of writing nice clues only. I've gently nudged many young people before to write such a Punjabi program but so far to no avail.

As an added incentive let me also mention that the ਪੰਜਾਬੀ ਟ੍ਰਿਬਿਊਨ of April 19, 2014 gives names of as many as 32 solvers of the last and quite challenging puzzle : so there is out there a fairly big market waiting for this product. Indeed, what could be more pleasant for a bright young person – or for that matter an adult – than doing crosswords to improve his or her command of a language? Finally, there is the undying fame and glory : writing such a program would obviously strike a telling blow for Punjab, Punjabi and Punjabiat!
